

About Us

Cornwall Manor is a not-for-profit continuing care retirement community established in 1949 in the historic borough of Cornwall, Lebanon County.

Cornwall Manor offers many housing choices including apartments and homes. Coupled with onsite health care like personal care, skilled nursing, therapy services and a Wellness Office with campus nurse and physicians and a vast array of services and amenities - Cornwall Manor is more than a beautiful place to retire - it's a beautiful place to be!

Cornwall Manor is in mission with The Eastern Pennsylvania Conference of The United Methodist Church.

Lifestyle Choices- Buckingham Campus

The historic 85-acre Buckingham Campus offers both apartments and homes.

Also available on the Buckingham Campus is the Freeman Community Center with meeting space and dining; the Wright Family Wellness Center with a pool and fitness center; outpatient therapy services; a wellness office with campus nurse and physicians; personal care and skilled nursing; branch bank; Zerr Chapel, library, recreational room, movie theater, activities and craft room, walking trails, dog park, resident vegetable gardens and much more.

Lifestyle Choices- The Woods

Cornwall Manor's expanded 105-acre campus The Woods, is located less than a mile from the Buckingham Campus.

Homes in The Woods include two or three bedrooms, two full bathrooms and garages offering 1,180 to 2,000+ square feet of living space.

Woods residents have use of the Treehouse, which includes a fitness room, game area, kitchen and meeting space. A Clubhouse at The Woods, which will expand amenities and services, is planned in the near future.

The Woods connects to the Buckingham Campus via the Lebanon Valley Rail Trail and Woods residents enjoy all the amenities and services that Cornwall Manor has to offer.

Also on The Woods Campus, adjacent to the Rail Trail, is the Trailside Organic Farm, an onsite USDA certified organic farm managed by the industry experts at the Rodale Institute. Produce harvested at Trailside is used in Cornwall Manor's campus dining rooms.
